MEET JANETTE

Sex: Spayed Female
Breed: American Bully
Size: Medium- Large
Age: 3-4 years

Such a lovely, loving and incredibly loyal lady! Jeanette is a world class cuddler, content to share her bed with anyone who would like to curl up with her for a quick nap. She's also a lovely walking companion but despite her rather stocky, solid build, not into marathons. She craves humane companionship and so would love her new family to be real home bodies or the work from home types. Jeanette would like all of your attention so isn't up for sharing your affection with other dogs or cats. Some dogs just seem to be old souls and Jeanette is clearly one of those.

With a deep and complex personality, Jeanette would benefit from an experienced dog owner, someone who can understand her emotions from love and adoration, to being protective of those she loves. Jeanette has experienced seizures which are now well controlled with regular medication. If you are looking for a canine soulmate, please do come to meet Jeanette.

The adoption fee for adult dogs is $225. All have been spayed or neutered, vaccinated for rabies, kennel cough, DH(L)PP, have had a complete fecal analysis, treated for internal and external parasites, are heartworm tested and on heartworm preventative and flea and tick preventative and are microchipped. Stop in on Monday, Thursday and Friday from 10- 1, Saturdays from 10 - 4, Sundays from 2-5 without an appointment or call us at 607-594-2255 to schedule an appointment. Or, visit our website www.schuylerhumane.org to fill out an adoption application to get the process started.

The Humane Society Shelter is located at: 124 Marina Drive, Montour Falls, NY 607-594-2255 • info@schuylerhumane.org

Personalized advanced care for chronic wounds

Cayuga Center for Wound Healing aids recovery with sophisticated therapies

By Brian Bollo, MD

If a wound hasn't improved after two to four weeks, it could mean there's a health problem that needs treatment. These wounds—called chronic wounds—are often linked to conditions like diabetes and poor blood flow. The first step in helping a wound heal is finding out what's causing it. This can help prevent serious problems, like infections or even amputation.

What happens when I visit the Cayuga Center for Wound Healing?

The center has a team of wound care experts. At your visit in either Cayuga Medical Center or Schuyler Hospital, they will check your wound, look at your health history, and may order tests or send you to other specialists. They will create a specialized treatment plan just for you.

What types of wounds are treated most often?

The center treats many types of hard-to-heal wounds, including:

- Diabetic foot ulcers – open sores on the feet caused by poor circulation and nerve damage in people with diabetes.
- Pressure ulcers (bedsores) – caused by lying or sitting too long in one position.
- Leg ulcers from poor blood flow – due to problems with veins or arteries.
- Infected wounds – wounds with serious skin or bone infections.
- Failing skin grafts – when a skin graft doesn't heal properly.
- Wounds from radiation therapy – damage to skin and tissue after cancer treatment.

What advanced treatments are offered?

- Negative pressure wound therapy – A vacuum device gently pulls fluid from the wound and helps new tissue grow.
- Skin substitutes – Lab-made materials that help the body heal. These are used during regular visits.

Brian Bollo, MD

- Hyperbaric oxygen therapy (HBOT) – Patients sit in a clear, pressurized chamber filled with 100% oxygen. This helps wounds heal and fights infection. Patients can watch TV or listen to music during the 2-hour sessions, which are done five days a week for 6–12 weeks. HBOT works well for wounds that haven't healed with regular treatment, like diabetic foot ulcers and radiation injuries.

Get help sooner rather than later

If you or someone you care about has a wound that won't heal, don't wait. Getting help early can prevent serious problems and help you recover faster. Call the Cayuga Center for Wound Healing at (607) 274-4203.

Specialized treatments from the Cayuga Center for Wound Healing at Cayuga Medical Center can help prevent serious problems from slow healing wounds.

Brian Bollo, MD, received his medical degree from SUNY Downstate Medical College in Brooklyn and completed a five-year residency at Staten Island University Hospital. His fellowship training at Lutheran Medical Center in Brooklyn was in minimally invasive surgery, with a focus on bariatric surgery. He can be reached at Cayuga Surgical Specialists (607) 273-3161 and Cayuga Center for Metabolic and Bariatric Surgery (607) 252-3555.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT
BLOSSOMS INTO RENOVATED SPACE AT SCHUYLER HOSPITAL.

Cayuga Health, an affiliate of Centralus Health, proudly unveiled a newly renovated courtyard garden at Schuyler Hospital. This inviting, tranquil space made possible by generous community support and donations. The transformed courtyard is designed as a peaceful haven for patients, families, staff, and residents of the Seneca View Skilled Nursing Facility. With its thoughtfully arranged landscaping, shaded seating, and calming atmosphere, the garden offers a place of rest and reflection for all who visit. "Whether it's a patient stepping outside for a breath of fresh air, a family member needing a quiet place to reflect, or a team member taking a moment to recharge, the garden serves as a welcoming refuge for all," said Jasmine Canestaro, Assistant Vice President of Operations. The project was funded through donations to the Schuyler Health Foundation, including meaningful contributions from Foundation board members Philly DeSarno and Ken Wilson, as well as Wilson's sister, Marilyn Cross. A stone bench within the garden honors the memory of Ken and Marilyn's parents, Stewart and Ruth Wilson, avid gardeners who found joy in nurturing green spaces. "We're deeply grateful to everyone who helped make this transformation possible," said Kim Sprague, Director of the Schuyler Health Foundation. "Your vision and generosity have made an impact that will bring people joy for years to come." The garden renovation is part of a broader Centralus Health effort supported by the community to enhance patient experiences across the region. Other recent projects include the restoration of eight historic sculptures within the Mitchell Garden at Cayuga Medical Center, the donation of comfort blankets to cancer patients at both the Falck Cancer Center and the Cayuga Cancer Center through the Subaru Loves to Care Event, and an upcoming on-site salon for Seneca View residents. To learn more about the Schuyler Health Foundation, and to offer your support, visit cayugahealth.org/giving/schuyler-health-foundation.
